10 BETWEEN THE DEVIL AND THE DEEP BLUE SEA

Professor Keith Hayward FRAeS continues his series on the political aspects of Britain's post-war aircraft industry with BOAC's troubled procurement of the Vickers VC10

20 A GRAND DAY OUT AT CHÂTEAU D'ARDENNE

In 1930 a former Belgian royal castle was the setting for a spiffingly social aerial weekend, as Nick Stroud explains

32 NATIONAL TREASURE?

Graham Skillen laments the fate of most of the once-mighty Hawker Sea Furies he photographed awaiting disposal at Lossiemouth in the early 1960s

36 DEFENDING THE REICH: PART 2

Luftwaffe specialist Robert Forsyth's three-part series on the work of wartime experimental unit E.Kdo 25 continues with its investigation into towed bombs and "fire-clouds"

46 THE SPECKLED TROUT FROM MOSES LAKE

Former Boeing RC-135 pilot Robert Hopkins III details the long career of the much-travelled KC-135 used by General Curtis LeMay and others to set a number of world records

56 AN EYE FOR DETAIL: THE ITALIAN JOB

Juanita Franzi continues her series on notable airframes with an Ansaldo Balilla much flown by Eddie Rickenbacker

60 MIRAGE AU CONGO

Dassault's distinctive delta-winged jet fighter served — and saw combat — with the Force Aérienne Zairoise during 1975–88, as Arnaud Delalande reveals

68 UNLUCKY 13

Dutch aviation historian Nico Braas charts the development of one of Fokker's rare misadventures — the post-war S.13 twin-engined trainer, of which only one was built

78 TED BAKER & NATIONAL AIRLINES

Award-winning airline historian David H. Stringer profiles the pugnacious George E. "Ted" Baker, owner and tyrant-in-chief of the Florida-based National Airlines

90 THE SHOT OF A LIFETIME

We take a look at the story behind a well-known Hunter picture — and how it almost cost the photographer his life

92 THE REAL CATCH-22

Pavel Türk chronicles the wartime combat career of Joseph Heller, whose 1961 novel Catch-22 drew heavily on his experiences as a B-25 bombardier in Italy

106 HILLSON'S HORRIBLE HELVELLYN

Using two recently rediscovered 1940 flying reports, Philip Jarrett discovers why only one Hillson Helvellyn was built

110 ARCTIC ASSIGNMENT

Our regular series based on newly-discovered rolls of film taken by aviation journalist John Stroud continues with visits to Finland in 1949–56 by John and his wife Patricia

120 ARMCHAIR AVIATION

125 LOST & FOUND

126 JUST ADD WATER

Bill Harrison recalls making the first night alighting in a flying-boat in the UK since the end of the war — or was it?
